This ticket will grant access to the concert only to the person whose name has been printed on the ticket and who is able to identify himself/herself by submitting a passport, personal identity card, driver's license, credit card or EC bank card.

You may transfer your rights and obligations under the contract with the promoter (and thus also the right to demand access to the event) to a third party only by that third party acceding in your stead to the contract with the promoter, and such third party accepting all of your rights and obligations. The provisions made in the General Terms and Conditions (which have been published on www.tickets.de) apply in this regard. This accession to the contract requires the consent of the promoter. The transfer of the right to attend the event enjoyed by the further persons for whom the contractual partner of the promoter has also ordered tickets shall likewise be subject to the consent of the promoter. These consents are hereby granted in advance, subject to the restrictions set out hereinbelow.

For reasons of fairness and by way of preventing tickets from being re-sold at inflated prices (scalping), thus also preventing any negative impacts on the promoter's reputation, the promoter will not grant its consent to a third party acceding to the contract with it, or to the right to attend the event being transferred, in the following cases:

a) Where the Online Tickets are forwarded or sold in any form of trade or commerce without the express prior consent of the promoter; b) Where the Online Tickets are offered for sale in the context of internet auctions not authorized by the promoter; c) Where the Online Tickets are sold at a price that is higher than the original price of the tickets plus booking fee and plus any expenditures that the seller may have incurred otherwise as a result of the acquisition or re-sale of the tickets (as a maximum, however, 15% of the original price plus the booking fee); d) Where Online Tickets are sold with the intent of making a profit; e) Where the Online Tickets are forwarded or sold for advertisement or marketing purposes, as a bonus, as a promotional gift or a prize, or as part of any hospitality or travel package not authorized by the promoter; f) In the event of any sale of Online Tickets without any reference being made to the General Terms and Conditions. In such events, forwarding and/or re-selling Online Tickets is prohibited.

In the event of a violation of the prohibitions set out hereinabove, the promoter is entitled to disable the tickets concerned. For any instance in which the above prohibitions are culpably breached, the promoter moreover is entitled to demand that its respective contractual partner pay a contractual penalty. The General Terms and Conditions have provided for the details (in Clauses 10.6 and 10.7., and have been published online at www.tickets.de).

Any transfer of this ticket requires it to be re-personalized (Clause 11 of the General Terms and Conditions).
